Appendix B: Oral Exam Guide

The following edits were made to delete instances of DUATS, as it is no longer in existence.

Page 294, Part I, 2.b., Question 73:

73. Where is weather information available on the ground?

Weather information is available on the ground from a Flight Service Station (FSS), ~~Direct User Access Terminal System (DUATS)~~ www.1800wxbrief.com, and Telephone Information Briefing Service (TIBS). You can speak to a pre-flight briefer at FSS and/or receive TIBS by calling 1-800-WX-BRIEF anywhere in the country. ~~DUATS~~ The site, www.1800wxbrief.com, is a free service available to pilots on the Internet. With ~~DUATS~~ www.1800wxbrief.com, you can receive weather information and file a flight plan. TIBS is recorded weather information that can be obtained by calling 1-800-WX-BRIEF.

Page 300, Part I, 3.e., Question 148:

148. How would you file a VFR flight plan?

I would file a VFR flight plan with the FSS by phone using the information pertinent to my specific flight, as filled out on the FAA Flight Plan Form. I could also file by radio or via the Internet with ~~DUAT~~ www.1800wxbrief.com.
